

Complaints Policy

April 2025-April 2026

Dealing With Complaints – Initial Concerns

At Acorn Childcare Centre (the Centre) we take informal concerns seriously at the earliest stage so that we are able to resolve most issues very quickly and effectively. In most cases the Room Manager, Key Worker or Out of School Club Manager will receive the first approach about a concern. It is helpful if staff are able to resolve issues on the spot, including apologising where necessary. We recognise however that sometimes this is not possible and formal complaints should always follow this Complaints Policy. Most concerns are handled without the need for formal procedures. The requirement to have a Complaints Policy does not in any way undermine efforts to resolve the concern informally.

The Difference Between A Concern And A Complaint

A 'concern' may be defined as 'an expression of worry or doubt over an issue considered to be important for which reassurances are sought'. A complaint may be generally defined as 'an expression of dissatisfaction however made, about actions taken or a lack of action'. At Acorn Childcare Centre, we take informal concerns seriously and make every effort to resolve the matter as quickly as possible. It is in everyone's interest that complaints are resolved at the earliest possible stage. Many issues can be resolved informally, without the need to invoke formal procedures.

There are occasions when complainants would like to raise their concerns formally. In those cases, the Centre's formal policy should be invoked through the stages outlined within our procedure Annex A.

Who Can Make A Complaint?

Any person, including members of the general public, may make a complaint about any provision of facilities or services which the Centre provides. We do not limit complaints to parents or carers of children who are registered at the Centre.

Complaints Regarding Children with Special Educational Needs and/or Disabilities

A parent or carer who has a child at the Centre with special educational needs (SEN), and who wishes to make a complaint, should approach the Complaints Coordinator in the first instance, stating that they have a child with SEN. The Complaints Coordinator will then always and automatically ensure that the Special Educational Needs Coordinator (SENDCo) is involved in resolving the complaint. If the complaint remains unresolved or if the complaint is about the SENDCo, it will follow the normal procedure as detailed below.

Timeliness

The Centre will aim to consider complaints and resolve complaints as quickly, and efficiently as possible. Each action within each stage will be completed as soon as possible and within at least fourteen days. When further investigations are necessary, we will set new time limits. In those instances, we will send the complainant details of the new deadline and give an explanation for the delay.

Stages

The Centre expects complaints to be made as soon as possible after an incident arises to allow for effective management of a complaint. We consider three months to be an acceptable time frame in which to lodge a complaint, although we will consider any complaints lodged beyond this period.

Recording Complaints

The Centre asks for complaints to be made by using a complaint form or in writing. If the complainant has communication preferences due to disability or learning difficulties, then we allow alternative methods of contact.

- A complaint may be made in person, by telephone, or in writing.
- In order to prevent any later challenge or disagreement over what was said, brief notes of meetings and telephone calls will be kept and a copy of any written response added to the record. Where there are communication difficulties, we may wish to use recording devices to ensure the complainant is able to access and review the discussions at a later point.
- We will record the progress of the complaint and the final outcome. The Complaints Coordinator is responsible for these records and holds them centrally.
- The Centre is aware that complainants have a right to copies of these records under the Freedom of Information and Data Protection Acts.
- Our standard complaint form is included in Annex B.

Directors' Review

Complaints will not be shared with all the Directors, except in very general terms, in case an appeal panel needs to be organised. If all the Directors are aware of the substance of a complaint before the final stage has been completed, the Centre will arrange for an independent panel to hear the complaint. The Centre is most likely to approach the Governing Body of Malcolm Sargent Primary School to help in this regard.

Complainants have the right to request an independent panel, if they believe there is likely to be bias in the proceedings. The Centre will consider the request but ultimately, the decision is made by the Directors.

The process of listening to and resolving complaints can contribute to improvement. When individual complaints are heard, the Centre may also identify underlying issues which need to be addressed. The Centre recognises that monitoring and a review of complaints can be a useful tool in evaluating its performance. The Directors will review complaints and their handling at regular intervals to inform improvements and the effectiveness of the complaints procedure.

Complaints not in scope of the policy

Our Complaints Policy covers all complaints about any provision of facilities or services which the Centre provides, with the exceptions listed below for which there are separate (statutory) procedures:

Exceptions	Who to contact
Statutory assessments of Special Educational Needs (SEN) Matters likely to require a child protection investigation	Concerns should be raised direct with local authorities (LA).
Whistleblowing	The Centre has an internal whistleblowing procedure for its employees and voluntary staff. Other concerns can be raised direct with Ofsted by telephone on: 0300 123 3155, via email at: whistleblowing@ofsted.gov.uk or by writing to: WBHL, Ofsted Piccadilly Gate Store Street Manchester M1 2WD. The Department for Education is also a prescribed body for whistleblowing in education.
Staff grievances and disciplinary procedures	These matters will invoke the Centre's internal grievance procedures. Complainants will not be informed of the outcome of any investigation.
Complaints about services provided by other providers who may use Centre premises or facilities.	Providers should have their own complaints procedure to deal with complaints about service. They should be contacted direct.

Annex A - Complaints Procedure

Dealing With Complaints – Formal Procedures

The formal procedures will need to be invoked when initial attempts to resolve the issue are unsuccessful and the person raising the concern remains dissatisfied and wishes to take the matter further. At the Centre, we nominate a member of staff to have responsibility for the operation and management of the Centre's complaints procedure. The Centre's Complaints Co-coordinator is the Deputy Manager.

Stage 1 (Informal): Complaint Heard By Staff Member

It is in everyone's interest that complaints are resolved at the earliest possible stage. The Centre understands that the experience of the first contact between the complainant and the Centre is crucial in determining whether the complaint will escalate. To that end, staff are made aware of the procedures, so that they will know what to do when they receive a complaint.

We respect the views of a complainant who indicates that he/she would have difficulty discussing a complaint with a particular member of staff. In these cases, the Complaints Coordinator can refer the complainant to another staff member. Where the complaint concerns the Manager, the Complaints Coordinator will refer the complainant to the Safeguarding Director.

Similarly, if the member of staff directly involved feels too compromised to deal with a complaint, the Complaints Coordinator may consider referring the complainant to another staff member. The member of staff may be more senior but does not have to be. The ability to consider the complaint objectively and impartially is crucial.

Where the first approach is made to a Director, the next step is to refer the complainant to the appropriate person and advise them about the procedure.

It is useful if Directors do not act unilaterally on an individual complaint outside the formal procedure or be involved at the early stages in case they are needed to sit on a panel at a later stage of the procedure.

Stage 2 (Formal): Complaint Heard By the Centre Manager

The Centre Manager's influence will already have shaped the way complaints are handled at the Centre. At this point, the complainant may be dissatisfied with the way the complaint was handled at Stage 1 as well as pursuing their initial complaint. The Manager may delegate the task of collating the information to another staff member but not the decision on the action to be taken.

Stage 3 (Formal): Complaint Heard By the Safeguarding Director

If the complainant is not satisfied with the response of the Manager or the complaint is about the Manager, the complainant should write to the Centre's Safeguarding Director to request that their complaint is considered further.

Stage 4 (Formal): Complaint Heard by A Directors' Appeal Panel

The complainant usually needs to write to the Directors giving details of the complaint and asking that it is put before the Appeal Panel. The Chair (or if the Chair has been involved at any previous stage in the process, a nominated member of the Directors) will convene a Directors' Appeal Panel. The Appeal Panel hearing is the last Centre-based stage of the complaints process and is not convened merely to rubber-stamp previous decisions.

Individual complaints would not be heard by all the Directors at any stage, as this could compromise the impartiality of any panel set up for a disciplinary hearing against a member of staff following a serious complaint.

The Directors may nominate a number of members with delegated powers to hear complaints at that stage, and set out its terms of reference. These can include:

- drawing up its procedures;
- hearing individual appeals;
- making recommendations on policy as a result of complaints.

The procedure adopted by the Directors' Appeal Panel would normally be part of the Centres complaints procedure. The panel can be drawn from the nominated members and may consist of three or more people. The panel may choose their own Chair.

The Remit of The Directors' Appeal Panel

The Appeal Panel can:

- dismiss the complaint in whole or in part;
- uphold the complaint in whole or in part;
- decide on the appropriate action to be taken to resolve the complaint;
- recommend changes to the school's systems or procedures to ensure that problems of a similar nature do not recur.

There are several points which any member of the Directors sitting on an Appeal Panel needs to remember:

- It is important that the hearing is independent and impartial and that it is seen to be so.
- No Director may sit on the panel if he/she has had a prior involvement in the complaint or in the circumstances surrounding it. In deciding the make-up of the panel, the Directors need to try and ensure that it is a cross-section of the categories of Directors and sensitive to the issues of race, gender and religious affiliation.
- The aim of the hearing, which needs to be held in private, will always be to resolve the complaint and achieve reconciliation between the Centre and the complainant. However, it has to be recognised that the complainant might not be satisfied with the outcome if the hearing does not find in their favour. It may only be possible to establish the facts and make recommendations which will satisfy the complainant that his or her complaint has been taken seriously.

- An effective panel will acknowledge that many complainants feel nervous and inhibited in a formal setting. Parents often feel emotional when discussing an issue which affects their child. The Appeal Panel Chair will ensure that the proceedings are as welcoming as possible. The layout of the room will set the tone and care is needed to ensure the setting is informal and not adversarial.
- Extra care needs to be taken when the complainant is a child. Careful consideration of the atmosphere and proceedings will ensure that the child does not feel intimidated. The Appeal Panel needs to be aware of the views of the child and give them equal consideration to those of adults. Where the child's parent is the complainant, it would be helpful to give the parent the opportunity to say which parts of the hearing, if any, the child needs to attend.
- The Directors' Appeal Panel members need to be aware of the complaints procedure.

Annex C: Roles and Responsibilities

The Complainant

The complainant or person who makes the complaint will receive a more effective response to the complaint if he/she:

- co-operates with the Centre in seeking a solution to the complaint;
- expresses the complaint in full as early as possible;
- responds promptly to requests for information or meetings or in agreeing the details of the complaint;
- asks for assistance as needed;
- treats all those involved in the complaint with respect.

The Complaints Coordinator

The Complaints Coordinator will:

- ensure that the complainant is fully updated at each stage of the procedure;
- ensure that all people involved in the complaint procedure will be aware of the legislation around complaints including the Equality Act 2010, Data Protection Act 1998 and Freedom of Information Act 2000;
- liaise with staff members, Managers and Directors to ensure the smooth running of the complaints procedure;
- keep records;
- be aware of issues regarding:
 - sharing third party information;
 - additional support - this may be needed by complainants when making a complaint including interpretation support.

The Investigator

The Investigator is the person involved in Stages 1 and 2 of the procedure. The Investigator's role includes providing a comprehensive, open, transparent and fair consideration of the complaint through:

- sensitive and thorough interviewing of the complainant to establish what has happened and who has been involved;
- consideration of records and other relevant information;
- interviewing staff and children/young people and other people relevant to the complaint;
- analysing information;
- effectively liaising with the complainant and the Complaints Coordinator as appropriate to clarify what the complainant feels would put things right;
- identifying solutions and recommending courses of action to resolve problems;
- being mindful of the timescales to respond; and
- responding to the complainant in plain and clear language.

The Investigator will also make sure that they:

- conduct interviews with an open mind and be prepared to persist in the questioning;
- keep notes of interviews or arrange for an independent note taker to record minutes of the meeting.

The Panel Clerk (This Could Be the Complaints Coordinator)

The Clerk is the contact point for the complainant for the panel meeting and will:

- set the date, time and venue of the hearing, ensuring that the dates are convenient to all parties and that the venue and proceedings are accessible;
- collate any written material and send it to the parties in advance of the hearing;
- meet and welcome the parties as they arrive at the hearing;
- record the proceedings;
- circulate the minutes of the panel hearing;
- notify all parties of the panel's decision;
- liaise with the Complaints Coordinator.

The Appeal Panel Chair

The Appeal Panel Chair has a key role in ensuring that:

- the meeting is minuted;
- the remit of the panel is explained to the complainant and both they and the Centre have the opportunity of putting their case without undue interruption;
- the issues are addressed;
- key findings of fact are made;
- parents/carers and others who may not be used to speaking at such a hearing are put at ease which is particularly important if the complainant is a child/young person;
- the hearing is conducted in an informal manner with everyone treated with respect and courtesy;
- the layout of the room will set the tone; care is needed to ensure the setting is informal and not adversarial;
- the panel is open-minded and acts independently;
- no member of the panel has an external interest in the outcome of the proceedings or any involvement in an earlier stage of the procedure;
- both the complainant and the Centre are given the opportunity to state their case and seek clarity;
- written material is seen by everyone in attendance; if a new issue arises it would be useful to give everyone the opportunity to consider and comment upon it; this may require a short adjournment of the hearing;
- liaise with the Clerk and Complaints Coordinator.

Panel Members

Panel members will need to be aware that:

- it is important that the review panel hearing is independent and impartial, and that it is seen to be so;
- None of the Directors may sit on the panel if they have had a prior involvement in the complaint or in the circumstances surrounding it.
- the aim of the hearing, which will be held in private, will always be to resolve the complaint and achieve reconciliation between the school and the complainant. However, it must be recognised that the complainant might not be satisfied with the outcome if the hearing does not find in their favour. It may only be possible to establish the facts and make recommendations which will satisfy the complainant that his or her complaint has been taken seriously;
- many complainants will feel nervous and inhibited in a formal setting;
- Parents/carers often feel emotional when discussing an issue which affects their child; the panel chair will ensure that the proceedings are as welcoming as possible.
- extra care needs to be taken when the complainant is a child/young person and present during all or part of the hearing;
- Careful consideration of the atmosphere and proceedings will ensure that the child/young person does not feel intimidated; the panel should respect the views of the child/young person and give them equal consideration to those of adults.
- If the child/young person is the complainant, the panel should ask in advance if any support is needed to help them present their complaint. Where the child/young person's parent is the complainant, the panel should give the parent the opportunity to say which parts of the hearing, if any, the child/young person needs to attend.
- The parent should be advised however that agreement might not always be possible if the parent wishes the child/young person to attend a part of the meeting which the panel considers not to be in the child/young person's best interests.
- The welfare of the child/young person is paramount.

Annex D- Interviewing Best Practice Tips

Children/Young People

- Children/young people should be interviewed in the presence of another member of staff, or in the case of serious complaints (e.g. where the possibility of criminal investigation exists) in the presence of their parents/carers. However, it might not always be possible to conduct an interview in case it prejudices a LADO or police investigation.
- Care should be taken in these circumstances not to create an intimidating atmosphere.
- Children/young people should be told what the interview is about and that they can have someone with them.

Staff/Witnesses

- Explain the complaint and your role clearly to the interviewee and confirm that they understand the complaints procedure and their role in it.
- Staff are allowed a colleague to support them at their interview. The colleague must not be anyone likely to be interviewed themselves, including their line manager.
- Use open, not leading questions.
- Do not express opinions in words or attitude.
- Ask single not multiple questions, i.e. one question at a time.
- Try to separate 'hearsay' evidence from fact by asking interviewees how they know a particular fact.
- Persist with questions if necessary. Do not be afraid to ask the same question twice. Make notes of each answer given.
- Deal with conflicting evidence by seeking corroborative evidence. If this is not available, discuss with the Complaints Coordinator/Principal/Directors the option of a meeting between the conflicting witnesses.
- Make a formal record of the interview from the written notes as soon as possible while the memory is fresh.
- Show the interviewee the formal record, ask if s/he has anything to add, and to sign the record as accurate.

Annex E - Policy for Unreasonable Complainants

The Centre is committed to dealing with all complaints fairly and impartially, and to providing a high quality service to those who complain. We will not normally limit the contact complainants have with the Centre. However, we do not expect our staff to tolerate unacceptable behaviour and will take action to protect staff from that behaviour, including that which is abusive, offensive or threatening.

The Centre defines unreasonable complainants as ‘those who, because of the frequency or nature of their contacts with the school, hinder our consideration of their or other people’s complaints’.

A complaint may be regarded as unreasonable when the person making the complaint:

- refuses to articulate their complaint or specify the grounds of a complaint or the outcomes sought by raising the complaint, despite offers of assistance;
- refuses to co-operate with the complaints investigation process while still wishing their complaint to be resolved;
- refuses to accept that certain issues are not within the scope of a complaints procedure;
- insists on the complaint being dealt with in ways which are incompatible with the adopted complaints procedure or with good practice;
- introduces trivial or irrelevant information which the complainant expects to be taken into account and commented on, or raises large numbers of detailed but unimportant questions, and insists they are fully answered, often immediately and to their own timescales;
- makes unjustified complaints about staff who are trying to deal with the issues, and seeks to have them replaced;
- changes the basis of the complaint as the investigation proceeds;
- repeatedly makes the same complaint (despite previous investigations or responses concluding that the complaint is groundless or has been addressed);
- refuses to accept the findings of the investigation into that complaint where the Centre’s complaint procedure has been fully and properly implemented and completed including referral to the Department for Education;
- seeks an unrealistic outcome;
- makes excessive demands on school time by frequent, lengthy, complicated and stressful contact with staff regarding the complaint in person, in writing, by email and by telephone while the complaint is being dealt with.

A complaint may also be considered unreasonable if the person making the complaint does so either face-to-face, by telephone or in writing or electronically:

- maliciously;
- aggressively;
- using threats, intimidation or violence;
- using abusive, offensive or discriminatory language;

- knowing it to be false;
- using falsified information;
- publishing unacceptable information in a variety of media such as in social media websites and newspapers.

Complainants should limit the numbers of communications with a school while a complaint is being progressed. It is not helpful if repeated correspondence is sent (either by letter, phone, email or text) as it could delay the outcome being reached.

Whenever possible, the Manager will discuss any concerns with the complainant informally before applying an 'unreasonable' marking.

If the behaviour continues, the Manager will write to the complainant explaining that their behaviour is unreasonable and asking them to change it. For complainants who excessively contact the Centre causing a significant level of disruption, we may specify methods of communication and limit the number of contacts in a communication plan. This will be reviewed after six months.

In response to any serious incident of aggression or violence, the concerns and actions taken will be put in writing immediately and the police informed. This may include barring an individual from the Centre.

Barring from the Centre's Premises

Although fulfilling a public function, the Centre is a private place. The public has no automatic right of entry. The Centre will therefore act to ensure it remains a safe place for children, staff and other members of their community.

If a parent's behaviour is a cause for concern, the Centre can ask him/her to leave its premises. In serious cases, the Manager can notify them in writing that their implied license to be on its premises has been temporarily revoked subject to any representations that the parent may wish to make. The Centre should always give the parent the opportunity to formally express their views on the decision to bar in writing.

The decision to bar should then be reviewed, taking into account any representations made by the parent, and either confirmed or lifted. If the decision is confirmed the parent should be notified in writing, explaining how long the bar will be in place.

Anyone wishing to complain about being barred can do so, by letter or email, to the Centre Manager. Once the Centre's own complaints procedure has been completed, the only remaining avenue of appeal is through the Courts; independent legal advice must therefore be sought.
